The Maine Association of Wetland Scientists (MAWS) is hosting a Brooks & Breakfast Workshop at the Maine DEP in Augusta! The workshop is FREE and is open to the public, but please register in advance (details below). At the workshop, you will learn about the recently finalized Natural Resource Protection Act (NRPA) Identification Guide for Rivers, Streams, and Brooks. Maine DEP Biologist and author of the guide, Tom Danielson, will lead the discussion regarding the biology and Maine DEP Regional Licensing & Compliance Manager, Dawn Hallowell, will be there to discuss and answer questions from a policy standpoint. This is a great chance for the regulated community to meet with DEP employees to discuss and understand this guidance document. Before the presentation and discussion begins, there will be a chance for networking as MAWS will provide a breakfast spread and coffee. Please join MAWS and the Maine regulated community as we enjoy some tasty food and an informative discussion!
